

THE CITRUS CROPS

ERNEST SPARR SAYS RAIN HAS IMPROVED CONDITIONS 100 PER CENT.

Ernest L. Sparr, Manager of the Sparr Fruit Company, expresses the opinion that there is little probability of damage to the oranges gathered from the present rain causing cracking of fruit, because they are too far advanced to be thus affected. The crop is very light—in his opinion not over 15 per cent of normal, but the fruit is exceptionally large and prices higher than they have ever been. In Los Angeles they are bringing 60 to 80 cents per dozen at retail. The crop is so short and the demand has been so great that the bulk of it has been marketed before the time which is usually the busy season (March and April) arrives. He questions if there will be more than a dozen cars of navel left in this district to be shipped in April.

"The rain," he says, "will be of great benefit to the trees. Conditions are 100 per cent better than they were a week ago. The trees were suffering for water. True they have been irrigated, but irrigation will not offset the rain. The moisture will absorb through all the pores of leaf and trunk in a rain, they do not get through irrigation. This rain will put the trees in good condition just before the blooming season which should come in April though they have been blooming more or less all winter. Those "off-blooms" do not make good fruit however, if they hold at all. No they interfere with the regular setting of the crop. We can make no forecast of the crop until after the hot spell which we always have in June.

"The lemon crop is going to be very heavy. Unless we get a great and continuous amount of rain the sizes are going to run small, but the next month or so will bring heavy pickings.

"Prices are exceptionally good at the present time, better than for many years past, but it looks as though there would be a lower market a month from now. Rains coming now will make the fruit watery and cause decay. We are not planning to hold fruit and will not begin to store it until April some time, when the winter season is past and the fruit will not be so liable to brown rot.

"This is a critical season and it is hard to judge and make forecasts, especially this year when conditions are abnormal and the railroads and markets are not dependable. It is a year in which we do not dare to speculate much on conditions."

AN IDEAL RAIN

The record of the rainfall in Glendale from 7:30 a. m. Wednesday to 7:30 a. m. today (Thursday) as shown by the rain gauge of Mr. Bartlett, was 1.53 inches. The total record of the storm which began Sunday night, as kept by Mr. Bartlett, is 3.66 inches which with the .95 of an inch, the previous credit of the season, makes a total of 4.61 inches.

All the conditions for the storm have been ideal. The light, intermittent fall at first was exactly what was needed to soften the ground and put it in condition to absorb the water. The long drought had made the ground very thirsty and in spite of the steady rainfall of last night it was all taken in. As Mr. Bartlett expresses it: "It is just perfect and the rain is all going into the ground. While it continues to fall as it is doing now, there is no danger of a flood." Postmen report that water is now flowing in the Verdugo Canyon wash.

ON THE OCEAN WAVE

SENSATIONS OF TRANS-ATLANTIC TRAVELLER IN WAR TIME DESCRIBED BY REV. WILLISFORD

Friends of Dr. E. H. Willisford will be glad to learn that Mrs. Willisford received a long letter from him, written on shipboard and mailed at Bordeaux, France, Jan. 25. A few extracts from the letter will be of interest.

"On Board S. S. Espagne. We are out on the deep blue sea. After much delay we finally got away. Went on board Tuesday afternoon (Jan. 15). There was the usual hustle and bustle about baggage, freight, mails, etc. Soon got settled in a three-berth cabin (1st class) with two other Y. M. C. A. men. Clear and warm, many are in deck chairs. I am feeling well, not much time to rest. Here is our program: 6:00 a. m. get up, 6:30 to 7:00 physical training and exercise on deck; 7 to 9 breakfast and study; 9 to 9:45 class in principles of Y. M. C. A.; 9:45 to 10:30 class in methods and military customs; 10 to 11:15 class in "Historical Setting of the War;" 11:30 to 1:30 lunch; 1:30 to 3:30 French, and then some conferences and sports.

"I am asked to take charge of the Sunday services; will get several to help. So far a good trip, boat steady, sea not very rough. Some forty Y. M. C. A. men, some Y. W. C. A., Red Cross, Postal Service, Business men and women, 100 Jackies. At night all windows and port holes are covered, so no light can be seen outside. . . .

"It is now 3:30 p. m. Have had our regular program. I get along finely except in French. I do not make much headway there, but have plenty of company. We are having a cold, grey day, yet I was out in my chair on deck for an hour. Shall be glad to get into the camp work. We get some news each day by wireless so know a little of what is going on. . . .

"Sunday P. M. We are having a new experience. Since early this morning we have had a very rough sea. Waves running high and heavy wind. Something has gone wrong with the machinery and since 3 a. m. we have been drifting. Up to noon today we had made 267 miles which is about 100 miles short of our usual run. Here's hoping for better weather soon.

"I conducted the service this morning. I took general charge, had another man speak 15 minutes. I am to go to the 2d cabin for a service soon. I have been wondering how everything is going in Glendale. Am glad Mr. Marsh is to be there. Our classes did not meet today. The leader had planned classes but some of the men thought otherwise. About 3 p. m. our vessel started again but the sea is very rough.

"Thursday—Have slept on deck several nights—prefer it to the cabin, but a rough sea last night and had to stay in. Some say the rougher it is the safer we are. We are now 453 miles from the mouth of the river Gironde, should see land tomorrow afternoon. I am surprised to find how well I keep. Am going to repack my trunk this afternoon so as to be on deck when land does appear. You know how interesting it always is.

"Friday—Sea calm last night and today, clear moonlight last night. Many stayed on deck last night and many slept in their cabins in their clothes if they slept. It was felt that last night was the fateful time—but no danger appeared and all feel safe now. I stayed on deck with my safety suit at hand and slept some. Last evening we had a concert and an auction of donated articles—donated by the passengers. We are beginning to see high points of land in the distance. The Bay of Biscay, which is reported to be notoriously rough is even smooth today. We had our last classes today. I have gotten a good deal out of the courses. I am glad to say I have kept well and feel good, have not missed a meal. Tomorrow is the 26th just a month since I left Glendale. It has gone fast—so many different things have taken place.

"E. H. WILLISFORD,
"12 Rue D'Aguesseau, Paris, France, Y. M. C. A."

Only three per cent of the male labor supply has been affected by the war, she says.

WITH THE MARINES

INTERESTING LETTER FROM H. E. SHIMP FORMERLY STUDENT IN GLENDALE HIGH

The following letter is from one of Glendale's High School boys who enlisted in the navy soon after leaving here about a year ago and it will no doubt be of interest to his many young friends who knew him so well while here. The credits given him because of the military training he had received here speak well for the work of Glendale High. Young Shimp was a pupil in Glendale High for about two years during which time he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Bovard of West First street. Had he remained here would have been graduated with this year's class. He was a favorite with his schoolmates and made quite a record in some lines of study. His parents reside in Greenfield, Ohio.

Newport News, R. I., Jan. 13, '18. Dear Father and Mother: Shepher and I came down town this afternoon and it is so cold that we did not go anywhere, so we have been around the Y. M. C. A. all afternoon. We are going to a show tonight, then back to the island. He only gets liberty once a week, and that is the only time I take it, although I can get it almost any time I want it.

Since I have been to sea I rate higher than the apprentice seamen that are here, and they are about all apprentice seamen that are on the island. After you have once been to sea the officers have more respect for you than they do when you first go through training. When you first get into the navy you are taught to be afraid of officers, but after you get away from the training station, officers are different. Since I came back to Newport it makes me laugh to see how high apprentice seamen think an officer is. When an officer speaks to them they get all excited and don't know what to say. If they want anything, such as "special liberty," furloughs, transfer from one branch to another, they are afraid to ask for it. I find there are many things lost by not asking for them. I have been in the service long enough to know if I want anything. I know just who to ask for it, and what to say, and I always get what I ask for. I knew the officer in charge of the radio school before I left here last fall, and most of the students in the radio school are new recruits who do not even know how to drill. So they have to be taught everything that I learned in Glendale high school about military training, and besides they don't even know how to tie knots. Of course they may never need to know it, but I am mighty glad to think I had three months' seaman training, as our instructor says seaman training makes a man out of you.

When the class goes out to drill a half an hour a day I study wireless, as there is no navy drill I cannot perform, not only do it myself, but

FOR MRS. CARTER

Mrs. W. E. Evans of 113 Orange street, entertained Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. George D. Carter, Chairman of Knitting, who is resigning her work in the Glendale Red Cross and going north in the near future with her husband to try ranch life. Mrs. Evans was chairman of the sewing department of the Chapter when it was first organized and was compelled to give up the office on account of a nervous breakdown. The affair of Wednesday was quite informal and limited to the ladies with whom Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Carter were associated when the work was new. The ladies entertained besides the guest of honor were Miss Elizabeth Ainsworth, who has been Mrs. Carter's assistant in the Knitting Department, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, purchasing agent, Mrs. A. S. Chase, chairman of packing, Mrs. Mabel F. Ocker, secretary, Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, chairman of hospital garments, Mrs. A. L. Weaver and Mrs. A. M. Beamon, who however was not able to be present.

Tri-colored decorations of red, white and blue in keeping with Washington's Birthday, featured the function, the hyacinths which centered the board being disposed in a blue bowl, and the table made gay with flags, red bon bon boxes, cherry favors, and hand-painted place cards, of hatchet shape, with cherry decoration.

Though a social affair the ladies lost no time but knitted industriously all the afternoon. Mrs. Carter has done splendid work as chairman of the knitting department and her many charming characteristics have won her a large circle of friends who are very sorry to lose her as a citizen of Glendale.

HONOR PEARSONS

WORTHY COUPLE SURPRISED ON THEIR FIFTY-SECOND ANNIVERSARY

One of the most delightful and long to be remembered evenings was spent Wednesday at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Crampton, 1011 Chestnut street, when forty-three members of the Third Street Episcopal congregation gathered in honor of two of Glendale's most dearly loved people, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Huntington Pearson, of 490 West Fifth street. The occasion which was a complete surprise to them was the celebration of their fifty-second wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson were invited to dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Crampton but on their arrival were met by their church friends and the strains of the wedding march, Miss Grace Crampton presenting a beautiful bridal bouquet to the bride of fifty-two years ago. After many hearty congratulations all were seated at long tables to partake of the delicious dinner when the host and hostess had a surprise coming to them in the presentation of another bouquet in honor of their wedding anniversary of the previous day.

After the merry dinner a musicale followed at which several selections were artistically played by our noted pianist, Miss Gertrude Champlain. Mrs. Charles Peckham sang with much feeling, "Thy Presence," and "A Perfect Day." Then the bride and groom were persuaded to sing the duet which they had sung so long ago, "How Can I Bear to Leave Thee," and as an encore, "O Wert Thou in the Cauld Blast." Many eyes were dimmed as these songs were sung although all heartily applauded the dear couple. Many other odes and patriotic songs were sung by the company closing by all joining hands and singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. Bannock in behalf of the friends present expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Pearson the sincere love and reverence in which they are held by all and the deep appreciation of the members of the congregation for the faithful service rendered by them. Mrs. Pearson is the able organist of the congregation and Mr. Pearson is ever ready to assist in the services. The fragrance of their beautiful wedded life will live on and on in the hearts of all who know them.

GLENDALE DOGS

According to City Clerk Sherer, the dog population of Glendale last year as shown by the dog license census was about 400. The consolidation with Tropic will probably increase it to 500. So far about 129 licenses have been issued. A good many are delinquent and if they are not taken out soon the dog catcher will be sent out to round up these friends of man and the dog pound will then be a lively place.

Mr. Sherer says that most of these pets are thoroughbreds and include Airedales, Collies and the various kinds of terriers. When it comes to names there is the widest latitude. The one which appears most often on the register is "Teddy," which is one of the straws that shows the popularity of Roosevelt. Then there are "Laddie," "Rover," "Jack," "Betsy," "Boy," "Shep," "Bob," "Dandie," "Dixie," "Midget," "Bonita," and a hundred others.

The impression is cherished in some quarters, according to Mr. Sherer, that a license for a dog is not required until the animal is a year old, but that is a mistake. "Dogs is dogs" in the interpretation of the dog license department. The younger they are the more of a nuisance in most cases, and the younger they are the older they will get, so a license is due for the puppy as well as the sedate old dog.

HENRY-BROWN COMPANY

The demands of the big business which the Henry-Brown Carbonated Beverages Company is conducting at 702 West Broadway, Glendale, keep increasing at such a rate that the firm is compelled to make constant improvements and additions to quarters and equipment. Their latest work along this line is the building of a storage place at the rear of their plant to relieve the workroom of bottles and boxes not in immediate use. It is a structure 30x30 with about one thousand feet of floor space, the walls of galvanized iron and screen so it will be cool in summer.

Mr. Brown reports that business keeps crowding them and their plant is running to capacity.

THE INNOCENT TAKE THE BLAME UPON THEMSELVES

A few days ago editorial mention was made of not more than three persons residing in Southern California who dearly loved to write nice things about themselves. The strange part about this little editorial is the effect it had. More than twenty modest citizens have assured he Evening News editor that they felt guilty and considered the reference a personal slam. Never a word have we heard from the three persons who really have the fault of lauding themselves. Thus it is the innocent are always ready to take the burden upon themselves and bear more than their share of this world's troubles.

WHY A "W. C. T. U. DRIVE"?

Among the varied war relief services of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, no single one has been more unique or brought more real help to thousands of soldiers and sailors than the useful, homey, "comfort bag." For thirty years these bags have been made and found most convenient; indeed "filling a long-felt want." This work began under the direction of Mrs. Ella Hoover Thacher, a beautiful and wealthy woman of New Jersey, who for years has devoted her life to personal work among the sailors and soldiers of the Atlantic coast, who have come to call her "The Soldier Boys' Friend" and "Mother Thacher." For many years, now, she has been the national superintendent of the work, and it is she who brought the comfort bag to its present state of perfection. Her friendly, personal interest is embodied in a delightful letter which goes in each bag. It has long been the custom for each state to provide a comfort bag for every sailor and marine on board the battleship or cruiser bearing the name of the state. It has been but a few years since California white ribboners made this gift to nine hundred or more men on their battleship.

In the contents of the comfort bag four different objects have been sought, viz.: there are first-aid helps for minor injuries; necessary toilet articles, buttons, thread, safety and common pins for repair work, while the moral and spiritual life is recognized and ministered unto through religious, purity and temperance literature and the New Testament. The Southern California bags are better than many, and contain, in addition to the various useful and necessary articles, "A letter from home," a sisterly note from the state officers, and a little volume of home songs.

The present comfort bag campaign was started June 13; the first bags came in almost immediately, and, to date, over five thousand have been made, filled, and either given or sent; of dark blue denim for the sailor boy, in khaki for the soldier. Literally hundreds have been asked for individually, and several times the workers have been almost staggered by requests for three to five hundred, for be it remembered that in addition to the work each bag represents an actual outlay, even at generously reduced wholesale prices, of over a dollar. Scores and hundreds of letters from the boys tell of the convenience and usefulness of the little bags, and there are many instances where the moral literature has had the desired effect in turning men from the use of tobacco and thoughtless lives to higher and better ideals.

But while the largest single effort of war service, the comfort bag work has not been all, by any means. Kern County white ribboners raised two thousand dollars for a fully equipped ambulance; large contributions have been sent toward the two National W. C. T. U. ambulances driven by sons of white ribboners and flying the white banner, as well as for the stereomotorgraph; three hundred and fifty sleeveless sweaters have been knit and sent to California men at Camp Lewis, who were most grateful for their warm Christmas gifts; thousands of bandages, made only by the W. C. T. U., as well as other hospital supplies, have been made and sent, and the young people placed an electric fan in a base hospital.

At best, the W. C. T. U. has but a scanty amount of money in its treasury, since the annual dues are small and that dollar literally does work clear around the world. And now when the intensive work of the past few months has all but stripped the treasuries, state, county and local, there comes the call for an immediate, wider work—for more comfort bags, more bandages and other hospital supplies, more sweaters and knitted articles. The demand is imperative for field kitchens to furnish warm food and drink for our soldiers as they come out of the trenches, faint and worn. We must help furnish more ambulances, more hospital fans, meet the need of Americanization of the foreign-speaking people amongst us. And we greatly desire to conduct a correspondence bureau to keep in helpful touch with the many hundreds of soldiers and sailors who have written us gratefully of our bags.

We are utterly unable to branch out into the broader work, even to forge ahead with our present service, without help from our friends and the friends of our soldier and sailor boys. So we appeal to the general public to help us in our campaign to raise $30,000 in Southern California for our war relief work. From the record of the past, because of our unexcelled organization and because of our unquestioned loyalty through all the years, we feel we are justified in coming with our specific need and pleas, as have the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A.

Will you not help us help our soldiers? Thank you!
W. C. T. U. of Southern California.

FROM CAMP STEVENS

The following excerpts are from a letter written by Walter Church, Jr., to his father, Secretary-Manager of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Leaving school at the University of Oregon last May, the young man became Assistant to the "New Work Clerk" in the Navy Yard at Bremerton, Washington, in the Civil Service at a salary of about $35 per week.

Then he went to the Boston School of Technology to make further progress in architecture. December 1st he returned to Eugene, Oregon. He joined the same company of Coast Artillery in which many of his friends and comrades had enlisted.

"Fort Stevens, Ore., Feb. 17, '18. "Dear Father:

"I have just received the Glendale News of February 14th with the copy of "Light" containing your picture. I am very pleased to have them indeed.

"I am much interested in your idea concerning Tri-Partite America, and the International Bank. It certainly seems the logical thing, and will be only a question of time.

"Of course it will be rather hard at first to get around the natural differences of temperament, etc., in the Latin races of Central and South America and those of our own Country. However, that will come too, and once started will spread rapidly.

"I was also interested in the Masonic paper generally. I have always hoped to some day become a Mason—but at present of course, this is out of the question. However, when the war is over and I return once more to take up the study of my profession where it was cut off, I hope to have the opportunity of becoming a Mason.

"We are stationed here at Fort Stevens—at the mouth of the Columbia River. I am in the heavy Artillery. As you know, we were originally Coast Artillery, but were all reorganized and changed to the field type, preparatory to leaving for France. We are expecting the orders any day now, as we have for the last month. Of course we do not know when they will come—but all hoping 'the sooner the better.' Every one of us is anxious to get 'over there' and into the thick of it.

"As you know, when war was declared last April, I was very anxious to join at once, and applied for the first officers' training camp—but only a few from school were chosen to go—because of their youth.

"There is a mighty fine bunch of men here, and I am satisfied and contented, but only hope that we see service soon.

"I don't know of course, just where we go, but it may be to England for a short training before seeing the firing line in France. We shall also probably handle the big 8 inch howitzers and help to send Kaiser Bill a message he will not soon forget. Any letters addressed to me at Battery C, 65th Art. C. A. C., Fort Stevens, Oregon, will reach me here—or be forwarded if I have gone.

SOLEFUL

It was a very high class boarding house, and the landlady prided herself on the fact that the conversation at table was always very intellectual.

"It was a strange theory," she remarked as she wrestled with the fowl, "that the souls of the dead entered birds and animals. But I think our ancestors held that belief."

"I'm rather inclined to think something like that does happen," commented the quiet man.

"No, really, Mr. Cutting? How interesting!"

"Yes," said Mr. Cutting. "I'm convinced that this chicken, for instance, is inhabited by the sole of a shoe!"—Topeka State Journal.

A NATIONAL DUTY

The Treasury of the United States has a great deal of money to raise and it can not be raised by bankers alone, says Secretary McAdoo. The banks of this country can not alone sustain America's needs in this war and extend to our allies the essential aid which they must have to continue the war.

The rich men of this country can not do it alone; the men of this country can not do it alone; the women of this country can not do it alone; but all of us, the people of the United States, disregarding partisanship, forgetting selfish interests, thinking only of the supremacy of right and determined to vindicate the majesty of American ideals and secure the safety of America and civilization, can do the great and splendid work which God has called upon us to do.

Iowans are advised that on account of the rainy weather the Iowa picnic has been postponed to Saturday, March 2d, at Eastlake Park.

Mrs. M. L. Russell of Seal Beach is the guest this week of her sister, Mrs. Walter Stamp of Lomita avenue, who is entertaining a few friends in her honor this afternoon.

Mrs. Florence Beebe arrived over the Salt Lake Wednesday evening for an extended visit at the home of her life time Mitchell, South Dakota, friends, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Van Alstine of Riverdale Drive.

The Basket Ball game scheduled to come off tonight (Thursday) at Union High, Glendale and Long Beach teams, has been called off because of the illness of two of the Long Beach boys.

The Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will meet at the home of Mrs. L. N. Hagood, 1454 Salem street, Friday February 22d at 2:30 o'clock. In commemoration of the birthday of Washington a very fine patriotic program has been prepared and the presence of all members is desired.

Mrs. Francis Otis of 1711 Pine street, will today finish her fourteenth sweater for the Red Cross. Mr. and Mrs. Otis came to Glendale to live early last spring and expect to make their permanent home here. Mrs. Otis is a valued member of the Glendale Red Cross Chapter which would like to enroll many more as industrious as she.

Guy Pixley of the 158th Ambulance Corps came up from Camp Kearny Saturday evening and spent Sunday with his mother and sister at 1216 Lomita avenue. He came by auto with a party of soldiers who were given leave until 12 p. m. Sunday night. He has since reported to his mother that they were late in reaching camp on account of the rain through which they drove all the way.

Mr. Hewett of the Glendale Laundry who advertised that he would launder flags last Thursday in order that all the national emblems in our city might be made fresh and clean, was disappointed because so few citizens took advantage of his offer. The laundering of a big flag is not an easy task and Mr. Hewett thought he was doing quite a public spirited thing which would be appreciated by flag owners.

In spite of bad weather, most of the members of the First Aid Class of the Tropico Red Cross Auxiliary came out for the regular lesson Wednesday evening. Dr. William C. Mabry, the instructor, lectured on suffocation, drowning and what to do in unusual emergencies. But two chapters remain in the course. After lectures covering those the doctor will give a general review in preparation for the examination.

The annual all day meeting of the Glendale W. C. T. U. will be held Friday, March 1st, in the church parlors of the First Methodist Church. It will be the most important meeting of the year. All reports of the various departments are to be brought in, all annual dues must be paid, and the election of officers will be held. Lunch will be served in the banquet hall. Bring sandwiches for two and one other article of food for luncheon. Every member is requested to be present.

NO POSTPONEMENT

The committees having in charge the Fathers' Night program of the Columbus avenue P. T. A., to be held this evening at the home of Mrs. J. R. White, First and Orange streets, state that the affair which is to be quite a social function will take place as planned, regardless of the weather. The advisability of postponing it was discussed but so many requests have been received from the "Fathers" not to change the date, that arrangements are going forward as originally outlined, in order that no one may be disappointed. There is such rejoicing over the rain that P. T. A.'s are glad to have an opportunity to celebrate the precipitation in connection with the program.

BLUE RIBBON FOR "BETTIE"

Miss Ellen Churchill and Miss Minnie Moulton of Blanche avenue, have returned from San Diego, where they were guests of Miss Moulton's sister at Hotel Coronado, and where they attended a fine bench show. Their Irish Setter, "Bettie", was entered and captured a blue ribbon. Last Saturday they entered her in a bench show at South Pasadena, given as a benefit for the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of that city. There she secured second place, the blue going to a very fine dog, "Lomita Victress", who also won the President's Trophy for best dog in the show. With such competition the ladies feel that Bettie acquitted herself very well. This week they will take her to the Orange Show at San Bernardino, possibly stopping enroute at the Mission Inn in Riverside.

MOBILIZING SCHOOLS

75,000 SOLDIERS TO BE GIVEN TECHNICAL TRAINING IN AMERICAN COLLEGES

With a view to mobilizing the educational institutions of the country and making use of their facilities for the special technical training of men for the army, the government has created in the War Department a "Committee on Education and Special Training" with five advisory members from leading schools and colleges.

The functions of this committee will be to mobilize the country's schools and colleges behind the Army. It will encourage and arrange for the technical education of men needed by the several branches of the Army, particularly the Ordnance Bureau, the Signal Corps, and the Engineers.

It is estimated that within the next six months 75,000 to 100,000 men will be given intensive training in schools and colleges. These men will be drawn from the armed forces of the Nation, the men now in training camps or about to be called thereto, and the registrants under the selective draft act. It is expected that most of the men selected for technical training will be taken from among the men who have registered under the selective draft law and who are awaiting training and the call to the colors.

In the selection of men for intensive training in technical subjects the committee will have available the information contained in the questionnaires which have been filled out by registrants under the selective draft law, the records and knowledge of colleges and educators of young men whose aptitude for technical service may be utilized, and the classifications of men already in training camps which have been made by the classification committee headed by Prof. Walter Dill Scott.

The great demand in this war for skilled men and technicians and for educated men in many lines has long been apparent. Much splendid work for the army has been done by the educational institutions in the aviation ground schools and in training specialists for various branches of the service. The Federal Board for Vocational Education has also rendered substantial service.

WITH THE MARINES

know all the commands to drill a company.

I got in here one evening about five o'clock, came up to the Y. M. C. A., ate supper and stayed all night. I reported in the next morning about nine o'clock. Loafed around until about three p. m. and got my papers, went over to the radio office and turned my papers over. He looked at my papers, then looked at me, and said, "Where in— have you been for the last two or three months." He said he tried to get me transferred the day I went to sea, but could not catch me until the draft had gone.

I was in the office last night inquiring about what I would have to do to take the examination for Annapolis, a great naval academy. I think I could get through except I have only been in the service about six months, and all men taking that exam have to be in the service a year or more, and under twenty years of age.

I expect to qualify for Harvard next Friday and will be up there in about ten days. I am in the service now until my four years are up, because after you go through Harvard it costs twelve hundred dollars to get out. They figure the training in Harvard costs them approximately a thousand dollars. So you can see that you learn something that is of value to you. With the practical experience I will get later, my time in the navy is worth just as much to me as four years in college, probably more. There is not any one thing you don't learn something about, and still you specialize on one subject. Going through Harvard radio school you learn not only wireless but all kinds of general electricity, which at the present time is a subject of the greatest interest.

In later years everything will be done by electricity, as it is now the cheapest way of transforming fuel into work. I will be at Harvard the rest of the winter, and go to sea in the spring, which is the best time. The population changes about every two months here. When I came back the only ones I knew were in the fireman school, yeoman school and officers. I just learned today that a friend of mine had been on the destroyer, Jacob Jones, when it was sunk, and there is no account of him, but he may have been captured or picked up by some steamer headed for some foreign port. Well, as Leo is almost through writing I will close, and we will go eat supper.

With love to all,
 Your affectionate son,
 H. E. SHIMP.

BATTLE FIRES OF VERDUN STILL RAGE ALTHOUGH USELESS

By HENRY WOOD
 (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
 VERDUN, Feb. 21.—Two years ago today the Crown Prince launched his great assault on Verdun that was to bring about the quick termination of the war and to establish the undying prestige of the House of Hohenzollern.

Today, almost unknown to the world public at large, the battle fires of Verdun are still burning with a degree of intensity that is costing thousands of lives every month both to the Germans and the French alike.

Paradoxical as it may seem, Verdun, which has already been assigned to an imperishable place in history as one of the greatest military victories of the French race, is still a raging battle. It has become indeed, a veritable endless, perpetual battle as though the great battle fires lighted there just two years ago this morning by the Crown Prince were of such an all consuming intensity that, like some great volcanic eruption, years will be required before they burn down to dead ashes and tranquility.

The official communiques both of the French and the German General Staffs fail to give any idea of the fact that Verdun is still an open, raging battle. But the Staffs themselves know it, and above all the soldier who lives through the endless days and nights of this never ending hell knows it.

As a French victory, Verdun is a closed incident for all time to come but as an open battle it will probably endure till the end of the war. With a stubbornness, a tenacity and a uselessness explainable only by the idiosyncrasies of German psychology, the German General Staff still continues to make Verdun an ever increasing cemetery for the flower of the German army and the hopes of Hohenzollernism.

Verdun became a definite, incontestable French victory on October 25 and December 15, 1917, when in two magnificent attacks, the French took back Forts Douaumont and Vaux and placed Verdun once and for all time out of danger. Yet the Germans could not give up. There was nothing to gain, but they kept the battle fires burning, and burning fiercely. Now they broke out on the left bank of the Meuse and now on the right.

In another magnificent effort to quench them once and for all time to come General Petain on August 20, 1917, launched his great joint attack on both sides of the Meuse throwing the Germans back onto the positions occupied by them before the Crown Prince launched his first wave of assault at 4 o'clock in the morning just two years ago today. After this, there was less reason than ever for the Germans to continue the battle.

And yet they continued it, alternately keeping the battle flames burning first one side of the Meuse and then on the other feeding into them more and more of their ever diminishing effectives. Again on November 25, in another brilliant and successful attack, Petain's poilus endeavored to convince the adversary of the uselessness of the struggle. The attack put the Germans farther away than ever from the possibility of ever realizing the slightest progress against Verdun, and yet they continue the effort and the sacrifice.

CERRITOS AVENUE SCHOOL

By Thursday afternoon of the present week it is expected that all the rooms in the Cerritos Avenue school will be organized for Junior Red Cross work. One room is having a candy sale Wednesday to raise money, another is serving a lunch of soup and pudding prepared by the girls in the Domestic Science department. The school will have a membership of about 250. Work has already been started, the sewing department being now engaged in the making of infants' clothes. Seventh Grade pupils are knitting yarn furnished them by the Tropico Auxiliary, the class including several boys who have become more or less proficient, with a waiting list of more boys anxious to learn.

Weather permitting, an indoor base ball game will be played Thursday afternoon by the Cerritos team and a team from Eagle Rock Grammar School.

IT WILL BE DRY INSIDE

It takes some storm to keep the Presbyterians at home. They had planned a social for tonight (Thursday) at the church and although the rain has thoroughly soaked everything else it has failed to dampen the ardor of the committee. They announce that the social will be held rain or shine and that they are assured of a large and merry crowd. The rain outside will only add to the warmth and coziness within.

BARRED BY AGE

A little Kansas City girl relates the Star, received a nicely engraved invitation to an afternoon party the other day in honor of a playmate's birthday. Delighted at the prospect, she gave the invitation a second reading, and then she suddenly began to cry. "It says from 3 to 5," she explained to her mother, "and I'm six."

RED CROSS NOTES

Mrs. H. E. Betz has sent out an S. O. S. for workers to prepare the materials to be cut by the children for ambulance pillows. Her placard "I need clean rags" has been effective and enough rags have come in for immediate needs, but they have to be made ready for the children and as several schools have recently been enlisted in this work it means that a large amount of material must be prepared. It is not a difficult task but unless this initial work is done, the manufacture of these much needed ambulance pillows will be retarded.

Chapter L of the P. E. O. worked in the Sewing Section Wednesday making aprons for the surgical dressings department, Mrs. Lawrence Ellis directing. The ladies thus engaged were: Mesdames C. H. Temple, H. D. Goss, P. A. Maxwell, A. W. Randolph, B. D. Snudden, J. G. Hunchberger, A. W. Tarr, Warren Roberts, and Mrs. Boccock, a member of the San Diego Chapter.

The tea feature of the Red Cross workroom is a pronounced success and gives considerable cheer to the ladies who work all day. Mrs. Blackburn keeps a "ginger jar" into which stray coins are continually finding their way and this constantly renews the tea supply. The Chapter is equipped with cups and spoons and a teapot, so it is all very cosy.

Mrs. Moulton announced that Wednesday would be the last day on which yarn would be given out at the Knitting Department of the Chapter to the school children who have been working on the hospital blankets. That work will now be taken over by the Junior Red Cross of which Richardson D. White, Superintendent of Schools will be the head, and he will have charge of arrangements for furnishing supplies. Also, children who have borrowed needles from the Chapter are requested to report at Chapter headquarters next Wednesday and either buy or return the needles in order that accounts may be kept straight. The needles are worth 20c a pair.

FIGURES TIME OF FALLING STONE

The time a stone would require to fall the 4,000 miles to the center of the earth has been calculated for the Paris Academy of Sciences, by M. Sanger. Considering the influence of the varying density of the earth, he finds the time would be 19 minutes 15 seconds, but if the mean density is assumed to be the condition, the time would be 79 seconds greater.

 "For a sprained knee, you darned fool! What do you suppose?"

TUJUNGA

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held on Monday evening. A good attendance was present. A talk of general interest for the good of the town, incorporation, etc., was indulged in. A custodian committee of three was appointed to take over and care for and control the letting of Bolton Hall.

The matter of the Board's meeting of entertainment, which will be held on the evening of March 5th, was talked over and the people may look for something good on that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Russell, of Cadillac, Michigan were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Dean on Friday. At Cadillac on account of the shortage of coal, people were obliged to try and keep warm by the use of green wood, while at Adrian, many people who had large houses to heat, closed them and went to the hotels. At the Industrial Home for Girls, fires were allowed from six A. M. until five P. M. each day, the balance of the time the girls remained in bed to keep warm. The gentlemen say it was the worst winter in Michigan they had ever experienced, so they had come to California to get warm.

John Steen has been in the village the past two or three days looking after his interests here.

M. V. Hartman moved from the city to his ranch near Sunland on Friday.

Mrs. Ed. Greenfield was a visitor in Tujunga on Friday, also Mrs. Will Mehard.

Miss Hannah McKee is at her home on San Ysidro for a short stay.

An all-day sewing bee was held at Bolton Hall on Friday, and twenty-four ladies worked on bath robes and underwear as well as the layettes. Owing to the illness of the chairman, Mrs. Parker, the business hour was omitted, but discussion on topics of the day took its place. Miss Benedict will take in the finished garments and bring out more work. We do most earnestly urge that more of the ladies will turn out to help in this needed work. The meetings will be held every week, so long as there are ladies to work. The gentlemen have been very kind in bringing the sewing machines to and fro each day, yet there is a shortage of machines, more could be used. There are many ladies of Tujunga who are conspicuous by their absence. All we ask is for this one day or part of it each week. Surely this is little enough to ask in order that we may show our loyalty and patriotism, so directly needed just now. Let us have a full house every Friday from nine until four. Coffee served free at noon, bring your lunch and enjoy the social conditions you will meet there.

Mrs. Wilmet Parcher who has been quite ill the past week is much better.

There are ten or twelve cases of mumps in our school, and Miss Salstrom reports that this is the first time in the five years she has taught in our school, that there has been any sickness to drop the percentage of attendance.

Charles W. Dean and Mr. Gress motored to Glendora on Wednesday on a trip to the latter's orange grove. Mr. Gress reports about half a crop of oranges.

The contractors on the highway have been soaking the road preparatory to putting on the concrete for two days, then the rain arrived, and an inch and a quarter of rain, coupled with the showers of rain and hail on Monday, made flushing unnecessary for which the contractors were thankful.

The county road agent has a force of men scraping and preparing the streets for a smooth layer of red clay surfacing. Now if our vacant lots could have a clear off, we would take heart and grow.

Services will be held in the Episcopal church every Sunday beginning on February 23 at 11 a. m. Mr. W. A. Noble of Pasadena will officiate. On the third Sabbath of each month Communion and Service will be conducted by the Rev. R. Renison of Los Angeles. Guild meeting will be held at Mrs. Fortinier's on San Ysidro, on Tuesday Feb. 26. New work on hand and a large attendance requested.

Mr. and Mrs. George Griswold of Los Angeles, and Ray Griswold and cousin of Brawley, were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Dean, on Monday. Mr. Ray Griswold has been actively engaged in business at Brawley for thirteen years and speaks highly of its opportunities.

A fine rain began on Saturday and continued up to three o'clock intermittently Wednesday morning, giving us 2.25 inches of rain. Of course we had a few flakes of snow, some hail and wind, but have nothing to say against it so long as we have plenty of rain and it looks as if more was coming. The high peaks on all sides were covered with snow, which means plenty of water in nature's reservoir. It will be just one year on the 22nd of February since our last rain. No wonder we were getting uneasy.

SHOE ON THE OTHER FOOT

He—Then perhaps you are afraid that I cannot support a wife. She—Not in the least. But I think that a wife might find you insupportable. —Boston Transcript.

LA CANADA

Mrs. Harry Horne of La Canada boulevard went Friday of last week to visit Mrs. C. C. Kelso an old friend living on Vendome street, Los Angeles. Mrs. Horne visited the Friday Morning Club in the forenoon. Mr. Horne joined Mrs. Horne on Sunday and accompanied her home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reno are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Howard, of Michigan boulevard. Mr. Reno is a nephew of Mr. Howard's, and comes from Ann Arbor, Mich. The Reno's like it here very much and will remain indefinitely, probably locating with us.

Miss Fannie Jewett of Burr avenue, went Thursday evening to Palo Alto to visit her friends, Capt. and Mrs. F. B. Jordan of Camp Fremont. Miss Jewett had a date for a dinner dance before leaving home and has the promise of many military gaieties during her stay in the north. Fitch Jewett who is stationed in San Francisco will be able in all probability to see his sister soon.

Miss Dorothy Lester is still under the doctor's care, her illness proving more serious than it was thought to be at first.

A Mexican riding through Montrose toward Glendale was thrown from his cycle but fortunately not seriously hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bolton will travel in a new Ford hereafter.

Adams Bolton has invested in a car which he purchased of Paul Arvidson.

La Canada "city dump" caught fire and burned quite vigorously for an entire day.

Lloyd Peet has passed his physical examination and has returned to his home in Antelope Valley, there to await his call to camp.

Mrs. James Penfield has given the Red Cross a much needed electric flatiron, which is greatly appreciated.

Mrs. and Miss Eggers arrived here today on a visit to Mr. J. Huntington. They came from Grand Junction, Colorado and will remain in Southern California for at least a month.

The canvass of La Canada for raising funds for purchase of right-of-way for the State Highway, undertaken by Max Green, was completed and the subscription list turned over to Mr. Rowley of Sunland. The amount collected was $280, of which $100 was contributed by one individual. More would undoubtedly have been secured had the completion of the highway not been practically assured before the canvass was made.

People are more or less abused by automobilists. A car full of men drew up to the entrance of a place on one of our main streets, where one man got out, proceeded to a water faucet, helped himself to a sprinkling can, filled his radiator, put the can into the car and drove off while the owner Mrs. Horn, was watching from a front window, to which she had been attracted by the noise made. The thief did not appear to be afflicted by absentmindedness, either.

The February meeting of La Canada Thursday Club was held in Pasadena at the home of one of its charter members, Mrs. Jesse Knight, on Hill street. After the routine business was concluded, instead of the usual papers the club had the very great pleasure of listening to a talk by Mrs. Harriet Thomas on the religion of India. Mrs. Thomas has lived as a missionary in India for 23 years and could speak with authority on things pertaining to India in an enthusiastic and interest-compelling manner, and closed her talk long before her hearers were weary of listening. The club had Miss May Young to thank for the privilege it enjoyed. The social hour was enlivened by refreshments to celebrate St. Valentine.
